GREEK PLANES HAMMER AT TRAPPED REDS

Loyalist Brigades Close In for Showdown Battle with Guerrillas.

By The Associated Press

ATHENS, July 16—Greek army planes hammered 2,500 leftist guerrillas trapped on the slopes of Mount Gamila north of Ioannina (Yanina) today as three government brigades closed in for a showdown battle, military sources reported.

Army authorities said that precautions also had been taken against any new invasion on Greek soil.

The authorities added that Greek intelligence reports disclosed there were six guerrilla concentration centers—three in Albania and three in Yugoslavia—from which new offensives could be launched.

Hospital In Albania

These reports said the largest of the three in Albania was at Leskovik, and that a hospital for the guerrillas was located there.

A source close to the general staff indicated last night that the end of the payoff battle in northwestern Greece probably would be near the village of Yeroplatanos and Vasilikon where, he said, the army had guerrillas surrounded. Vasilikon is only four miles from the Albanian frontier.

War Minister George Stratos reported that the trapped irregulars cannot escape and have to give battle."

He reported one brigade moving up from the south had stopped the guerrillas in their push for Ioannina, a city of 20,000 and two others coming down from the north had closed the trap from that direction.

(This indicated that Yeroplatanos and Negradhes might be on the northern and southern bounds of the same trap, which thus would be eight miles across.)

Prisoners Confirm Report

Stratos, who has pictured the current guerrilla offensive as an "invasion" aimed at setting up a Communist state, said 20 prisoners had told interrogators contingents of an "International Brigade" were among the forces fighting the army.

He added that members of a United Nations Balkan subcommission had become convinced that the offensive began in Albania. Stratos reported the subcommission went back to its Salonika headquarters from the battle zone yesterday but would return to Konitsa to talk with prisoners.

Fate of World Still in Balance On A-Bomb's 2nd Anniversary

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Science Writer

NEW YORK, July 16—Two years ago scientists deliberately released atomic energy for the first time in the form of a weapon to end World War II but today still were far from finding a way to utilize it for peacetime purposes.

On this second anniversary of the day when the fearful scientists touched off the first atomic bomb in a test on a New Mexican desert some of the co-discoverers and their colleagues agreed that harnessing this sun-born energy for the peacetime needs of man is far in the future. The emphasis still is on the military, what is to come is uncertain.

Many scientists feared even yet that atomic energy may boomerang and destroy the earth.

Some even predicted that unless the people of the world find a formula for peace which would include the control of atomic energy, that a full-scale atomic war might break out in 1955. One scientist has estimated that 20 atom bombs dropped on the coast could destroy every living thing in the United States.

Still other atomic scientists refused to hazard a guess what is in store for the world now that the atomic age is here.

Prof. Harold C. Urey, of the University of Chicago, who was one of the key scientists in the manufacture of the first atom bomb, said today in commenting on the second anniversary of the release of atomic energy:

"Two-Sided Coin"

"Atomic energy, like other important technical discoveries and developments, is a coin with a constructive and a destructive side. The constructive side will be turned to our view only occasionally unless in some way we can keep the destructive side permanently stuck fast to the table.

"This problem of preventing the use of atomic energy for destructive purposes is the most important one facing the people of the world. It involves the very difficult problem of preventing war, for if another war comes atomic bombs will surely be used."

A British scientist, Edward Neville Da Costa Andrade, professor of physics at the University of London, believed that the world has lost ground as a result of the development of the bomb.

"An instrument has been developed, the danger of which is not fully compensated by its value, potential or otherwise, to industry. It places in our hands a power we have not the moral sense to use."

Another British scientist, Prof. Paul Dirac, said there "has been no time for atomic development to have had much influence.

"Perhaps in years to come, it may have," he said. "It's potential ability to change our lives is considerable."

Dirac ridiculed reports that the Russians are working on a cosmic ray bomb, many times more powerful than the atomic weapon.

"Cosmic rays," he said, "are very useful in research, but I think they reach the earth in too weak a concentration to be useful for bomb-making or for industrial purposes."

He said the only defense against an atomic bomb "is to go underground."

The atomic bomb still was the most guarded secret of this nation. The U. S. atomic energy commission was swinging into action in the hope that peacetime applications can be speeded up.

Several Projects Planned

One of the commission's biggest jobs now is the construction of a pilot uranium fission pile at Oak Ridge, Tenn. Several others were planned, including the project at the Brookhaven national laboratory on Long Island.

Radioactive isotopes were being produced now at Oak Ridge and are being made available to many institutions for research, particularly for cancer. These tiny charged particles also were being used as "tracers" in tracking down the cause of disease. Radioactive elements, however, were used before the first atom bomb went off. The chain-reacting atomic piles can produce the isotopes more cheaply.

Harry A. Winne, vice president of the General Electric Co., operating the Hanford, Wash., atomic energy project, said that engineers "never expected anything but slow development of atomic energy for peacetime purposes."

"Decades passed after the invention of the steam engine, electric motor, telephone and electric light, before they began to raise our standard of living materially."

He said "there is nothing in

A-BOMB FACTORY TO BE PERMANENT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 16—The United States is putting its atom bomb factory on a permanent basis.

This grim footnote to the long and thus far fruitless effort to set up world controls over nuclear energy came to light today in an atomic energy commission announcement of plans to "permanentize and effectively modernize" the war-built town of Los Alamos, N. M.

The first a-bomb was made there and tested at Alamagordo, N. M., two years ago today.

The commission announcement said that Carroll L. Tyler, retired navy captain and ordnance expert, will be in charge of the Los Alamos laboratory, "where a multi-million dollar improvement program is under way."

Tyler succeeds Col. Herbert C. Gee, army engineer who has been on loan to the commission since it took over the Army's Manhattan project at the start of this year.

Word of the Los Alamos "permanentizing" coincided with another disclosure relating to military matters. That was the army's identification of the secret Sandia base near Albuquerque, N. M., as a unit of the little-known "Armed Forces Special Weapons Project."

Cars of Two Exponents Of Safe Driving Meet

Accidents will happen in the best of well-regulated families, goes an old adage. It was proved yesterday when two disciples of safe driving were involved in an accident at 1 p. m. on South State street.

Cars driven by Chief of Police William E. Marks who is currently managing a Marion campaign for safedriving, and Henry W. Wolfe of Delaware, representative of an insurance company collided, police said. Both were headed south.

Wolfe was moving toward the curb to discharge a passenger when a parked auto in front of him started to pull away from the curb. When he cut to the left to avoid the contact with the car pulling out, Chief Marks, trailing the Wolfe car, could not pull to the left in time to avoid the collision, the police record shows.

The city car was damaged on the right front fender and the Wolfe auto had a left rear fender smashed.

MURDER HUNT CARDS MAILED

1,000 Carrying Young's Picture and Description Go Into Six States.

City police departments and sheriff's offices in six states are to be asked to keep on the alert in an effort to capture Edwin D. Young, 30, Marion man wanted in the churchyard slaying of Mrs. Zora Hess Gerbes.

Sheriff LeRoy Retterer said today all police authorities in Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Michigan would be sent cards bearing a picture of Young together with his description and a description of his 1933 dark blue Chevrolet coupe.

More than 1,000 cards to be mailed. They are being printed today and will be placed in the mail Thursday. Marshals and constables in communities surrounding Marion also will receive the cards.

Hopes for Clues

By widespread circulation of Young's picture and description Sheriff Retterer hopes to find some clue to his whereabouts.

The cards also may turn up a tip to the location of the car in case Young has abandoned it since he was last seen in Marion.

Members of the board of county commissioners and Sheriff Retterer said today there had been some discussion of the possibility of offering a reward for information leading to the arrest of Mrs. Gerbes' slayer. No definite decision has been reached, however. It was thought likely today that no action to post a reward would be taken until authorities have had time to receive word of the results of the description circulars.

Visits Delaware

The sheriff said today his office had received no calls regarding the Young case since yesterday. This morning he went to Dela-

Missing Columbus War Bride Found in N. Y. Relative's Home

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 16—Mrs. Faye Ann Crow, 20-year-old British beauty who ran away from her Columbus, O., home last Thursday, turned up last night in Long Island exhausted from a hitch-hiking jaunt she began with only $1.50.

Mrs. Crow refused to discuss with reporters her reasons for the trip to the home of her aunt, Mrs. Violet Duncan at Bayside, L. I.

Her 23-year-old husband, Ralph, an ex-Army Air Forces corporal, said at Columbus that, while there had been no quarrel, their inability to set up housekeeping and to remain out of debt had posed major marital problems since she came here from England last February.

Her aunt said she arrived here Monday "tired and upset" after hitch-hiking from Columbus to Steubenville, Pittsburgh, Camden, N. J., Philadelphia and New York.

"She was afraid to sleep on the way," Mrs. Duncan said. "Her shoes were worn out from walking, her nerves frayed from loss of sleep and the anxiety of her experience."

Mrs. Duncan said she thought

10 U.S. SHIPS GO TO TURKEY

Marshall Reveals First Step In Program To Build Military Power.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 16—Secretary of State Marshall announced today the United States is taking steps to turn over 10 merchant ships to Turkey as a first move in the new program of strengthening the Turkish armed forces.

Marshall told a press conference that, with the Navy's concurrence, he had asked the maritime commission to sell Turkey six U. S. government-owned cargo-passenger vessels. The maritime commission also is being asked to sell four surplus vessels to Turkey.

First Shipment

Marshall was asked whether this represented the first transfer under the $100,000,000 undertaking to strengthen Turkey, and he replied affirmatively. Marshall noted that the sale of the six cargo-passenger vessels did not involve expenditure of any U. S. funds. They will be paid for in cash.

The six cargo-passenger vessels were described as pre-war built and of medium size. The four surplus craft were built during the war and were not otherwise described.

Marshall also discussed the Greek situation in response to questions. He said that the function of American representatives reported with the Greek army is to determine what is needed to strengthen the Army.

Survey Necessary

In carrying out the military phase of the $300,000,000 Greek aid program, he explained it is necessary to determine what should be done. The Greek army is engaged in guerrilla warfare, he said, adding this is quite different from normal warfare.

The state department, Marshall said, had very little information thus far on the fighting in Greece beyond what has been published in press dispatches. He added that representatives of the United Nations Balkan inquiry commission are flying to the frontier area, where the fighting is under way.

Last week's mass round up of suspected anti-government Communists in Athens, he said, was carried out without reference to the United States and was purely a function of the sovereign state of Greece.

Soapbox Derby Gets Under Way As Rain Lets Up

The Marion soapbox derby got under way today at 1:30 p. m. after being delayed a half hour due to a noon down-pour of rain.

First events were the qualifying rounds in the junior division.

Forty-five midget racing cars had been inspected and passed and the drivers were ready to take off.

The South Main street hill from Church to Columbia streets was blocked off early this morning for construction of the starting ramp and erection of the judges stand. Colored triangular flags were strung along the section. The ramp was completed by 10:30 a. m. and the first of the trial runs was started, with each driver taking his turn until the sudden storm shortly before noon stopped the activity.

Each driver had received his helmet, car number and been assigned to positions in the heats. Eighteen boys were entered in the junior division making six heats with three boys in each. Twenty-seven entries were in the senior division making nine heats with three entries each.

Inspection last night was in charge of Robert Minard with the following Lions assisting: Forest Sharrock and Maynard Smith, wheels and brakes; Frank Gage and Lowell Williams, steering; Howard Ryan, Robert Bush and William Selanders, measurements, and John Peacock and Richard Knight, weight.

STANDARD OIL RATIONS GAS

Holds Stations to 1946 Level of Supplies To Assure Fairness.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 16 — The Standard Oil Co. of Ohio announced today that in the interest of fair treatment of all its customers it must immediately limit supplies of gasoline and kerosene among its service stations, dealers and distributors to quantities not exceeding their last year's usage.

This is necessary, the company said, "to stop the drain on our inventories caused by current unprecedented demands for all types of finished products and especially by the great increase in the use of heating oils which must now be stored for next winter."

The company said that during the first six months of this year it had produced and purchased more crude oil than at any time in its history. Company officials said the pinch was caused by lack of transportation for crude oil.

"Petroleum transportation facilities into the middle west are now being expanded but until sufficient steel can be supplied to allow the petroleum industry to expand its facilities in keeping with public demand, supplies will continue to be short," a company statement asserted. "The shortage is temporary and there is nothing in the situation that time and steel will not cure.

DIVISION MANAGER SEES "NO CAUSE FOR ALARM"

SHELVES BIG 4 EUROPEAN PLAN

Suggests 'Frisco, Washington as Meeting Place with Veto Ruled Out.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 16—The United States announced today it has proposed an 11-nation conference Aug. 19 to begin work on a Japanese peace treaty.

The proposal represents a break with the peace-making methods followed in Europe where Russia and each of the other Big Four powers has an absolute veto.

The conference, under the American proposal, would be held either in Washington or San Francisco. Some of the invited nations might suggest alternative places or dates.

No replies have been received to the proposal which was made, the state department announced, last Friday.

Site in Doubt

American officials said that because of the availability of diplomatic representatives in Washington it probably would be simpler to arrange this initial conference here, but the American proposal was reported authoritatively to have left the way open for a meeting in San Francisco.

The state department's formal announcement said only that the United States told the other governments that "it would be pleased to be host" if they desire.

American officials, disclosing this today, said they are uncertain whether Russia will accept the proposal, which would have the effect of eliminating a Big Four or Big Five veto control over every provision going into the treaty.

No Veto Permitted

The proposal would not only take treaty-making out of the hands of four nations and turn it over to 11, but it also would establish a two-thirds voting system among the 11 so that even there no veto would be permitted.

U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, on confidential instructions from Secretary of State Marshall, has discussed the new treaty-making plans with Foreign Minister Molotov and Molotov is understood to have indicated dislike of those provisions which would end exclusive domination of the great powers in this field.

However, Molotov agreed to take the matter under consideration and no Russian objection or counterproposal has been received.

Countries To Attend

The countries invited to the Aug. 19 parley are the members of the Far Eastern commission set up about two years ago to make Allied policy for the Japanese occupation: Australia, Canada, China, France, India, The Netherlands, New Zealand, the Philippines, the United Kingdom, the Soviet Union and the United States.

These 11 were invited, a high state department official said, because the American government is determined that the Japanese peace treaty work from the outset will be carried on by the largest possible number of qualified nations.

In a formal announcement of the conference call, the state department said it had been proposed that deputy foreign ministers and experts participate in the initial meeting because the ministers themselves are tied down with other commitments.

Others May Attend

The department also said it is the view of this country that nations other than the invited 11 should be given an opportunity to present their ideas during the drafting of the treaty. After the draft has reached "a sufficiently advanced stage," the department suggested, it should be considered by a general conference of all nations who were at war with Japan.

The American proposals for conference procedure, the department added, were presented to embassy representatives of the 11 nations at a conference July 11 with John H. Hilldring, assistant secretary for occupied areas, and John Carter Vincent, director of the department's office of Far Eastern affairs.

STORE AND HOUSE HIT BY LIGHTNING

Firemen Called to Frank Bros. and Avondale Ave. Home.

Lightning struck at Frank Brothers department store on West Center street shortly before noon today and also at the Albert Cicero home, 429 Avondale avenue, resulting in two fire alarms within seven minutes.

At 11:55 a. m. firemen were called to the uptown store when lightning struck the electric wiring and burned an electric motor causing approximately $50 damage, firemen reported.

The motor furnished power for cash carriers which are sent by tubes from the counters to the office. Since it was so near to the Wednesday noon closing time, firemen said the mishap caused only minor inconvenience to shoppers.

Engine No. 1, and quad and aerial trucks, all from Central station responded to the call.

At 12:02 p. m. firemen were called to the Cicero home where lightning had followed the wiring into the house, burning out an electric light on a kitchen stove. Other loss was reported. Firemen from West Center street station and quad truck from Central responded.

Viewed from Any Angle, Greek Situation Displays Ugly Look

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

From whatever angle you view it, that Greek situation doesn't look so good.

The Communist rebellion with its international complications constitutes a fuse which could set off a mighty charge of high explosive Greece is perhaps the greatest danger spot on the globe today.

It's generally accepted that the whole world wants peace. The only great power capable of waging a major offensive war is the United States, and she certainly isn't looking for trouble. Russia doesn't want war, Britain doesn't want it; nobody wants it.

DewittMackenzie

And yet we find aggressive Communism so determined on expansion it is taking an enormous chance of precipitating a Balkan upheaval which in turn assuredly would threaten world peace. Greece furnishes an extreme example of this determination.

The Athens government claims the Red revolt is backed by the neighboring Communist countries of Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria. A majority of the United Nations Balkan investigating commission agree that the rebellion is being fostered by these countries.

Situation Is War

In short we have a situation which in any man's language amounts to war between fiery Greece and her equally fiery neighbors. Yet the quarrel hasn't been labeled "war"—and we hope it won't be, because that would almost inevitably accentuate the difficulties already existing between Russia and the western democracies. For are not Red Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria the minions of Moscow, and have not the western powers vowed to halt the expansion of Communism by aggression?

Some of the little fellows are getting outspoken. For example, Albania has spat against the wind and had its say. General Enver Hoxha, Albania's Communist premier, declared that the Greco-Albania border incidents "are part of a general anti-democratic plan of Anglo-American reactionaries whose aim is to bring about a new war, recommended by Truman's doctrine." The general arrived in Moscow for a visit yesterday.

Only Albania Blowing

Well of course that's only Albania sounding off, but one can't overlook that Tirana's wagon is hitched to the Russian star. It would be interesting to know who thinks up such speeches for the hardy Albanian mountaineers.

In any event, one wonders whether for once Russia and the western allies might not agree to let the security council of the United Nations put the clamps on this whole Balkan show a see but.

Apropos of this thought, London official sources yesterday said Britain was concerned over the wholesale arrests of Communists, trade unionist and leftwing liberals in Greece. These sources also said the cabinet was worried over signs that the Greek offensive against the guerrillas was failing, and that high-level Anglo-American talks might be initiated to consider possible future steps in Greece if the situation doesn't improve. Another source, asked whether intervention by British or American troops in Greece was possible, gave this reply (our Uncle Sam please note)

"Britain has only 5,000 troops left in Greece. We certainly will not send more. Greece is more a United States than a British responsibility, anyway."

America recognizes the responsibilities she has undertaken. Dwight Griswold, chief of the American economic aid mission to Greece, announced last Friday in Washington that the United States was speeding an initial shipment of artillery, ammunition and other military equipment to Greek armed forces.

Auditor Gloyd Frye explained that estimated receipts and balance for Jan. 1, 1947, is $129,477.46, while expenditures are estimated at $125,474.43. This will leave an estimated balance at the end of this year of $1,003.03. The outlook for 1948 is even more gloomy with receipts and balances estimated at $113,915, expenditures in 1948 at $114,515, and an estimated balance on Dec. 31, 1948, of $403.03. The city hopes to get some aid from the sales tax fund for the last half of 1947.

No further action was taken on the two emergency ordinances which would provide for a contract for electric energy to supplement the supply generated by the municipal light plant for re-sale to its customers, and for construction of an electrical substation for this purpose. The ordinances were given first readings at a special session of Council last Friday night.

Councilman Fred Sautter, chairman of the light committee, reported at last night's meeting that the committee will have its report ready for the next meeting of council.

In normal times, British farmers are able to produce 40 per cent of the food needed for the nation.

Miss Dorothy Buckley gave a piano selections, and a poem by Mrs. Crall closed the program.

Refreshments were served by Miss Dorothy Buckley, assisted by Mrs. J. C. Miller. The next meeting will be Aug. 14 with Mrs. Frank Fairchild on the Edison pike.

House Passes Bill To Check Up On Loyalty of Federal Workers

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, July 16—For months you've been hearing talk about checking on the loyalty of government workers.

It started March 22 when President Truman outlined a program for the government departments.

James Marlow

To make the program work—such as paying for investigators and so on—would take about $24,000,000.

All Mr. Truman asked congress to do was vote the money. He didn't think it necessary for congress to pass a law or do anything but vote the money.

So far congress hasn't voted a dime for the program.

And on May 18 one of the top Republicans in the Republican-controlled congress challenged Mr. Truman's program.

This was speaker, Joseph Martin of the house. He said the Republicans had made a promise to do just that kind of job and were going to keep it.

House Passes Bill

Yesterday the house passed a bill to check on the loyalty of government workers. It would set up a program only slightly different from Mr. Truman's program.

But before the house-passed bill can become law, the senate also must pass it. The chance there is not bright.

Under Mr. Truman's program and under the house bill, too, the loyalty check would be made of employes in the executive branches only.

Those are the operating branches like the departments of state, commerce, interior, labor, war, navy.

Employes of congress and the U. S. courts would not be covered

Nine Five Points

Briefly this is what Mr. Truman's program would do:

1. All disloyal persons—such as members of the Communist party or organizations associated with Communists—are to be fired.

2. All new employes are to be investigated for loyalty, either by the civil service commission or the department which hires them.

3. All present employes are to be checked by the FBI where this has not been done.

4. Each department or agency is to appoint one or more "loyalty boards" to hear charges against employes and recommend whether they should be fired.

5. The civil service commission is to set up a "loyalty review board" to act as a court of final appeal.

(This board, pending the voting of money by congress, has not been set up. If congress doesn't vote the money, the board won't be set up. And that will kill the President's program).

With all the talk of loyalty in the government flying around, Secretary Marshall on July 3 asked the FBI to check the state department's 21,000 employes for loyalty. He did this after dropping 10 employes as "bad risks."

GOVERNORS ASK FOR AID EUROPE DETAILS

By The Associated Press

SALT LAKE CITY, July 16—Republican governors made it plain today they will await a specific blueprint of the Marshall European rebuilding plan before they commit their party to full endorsement.

Gov. Earl Warren of California told a reporter at the governor's conference that before he offers qualified endorsement of the proposal for American aid to the distressed countries of Europe, he want to see in black and white the economic justification for such a potentially expensive program.

The California governor said he endorses in principle Marshall's proposal.

But Warren asserted the cabinet member's program must face the test of virtually unanimous agreement by the 16 nations at the Paris conference of their minimum needs, plus the detailed analysis of this country's ability to pay.

"Our assistance to Europe must have as its main objective the idea of helping the Europeans to help themselves," Warren said.

The Californian's views evidently were shared by other Republican governors.

Gov. Herbert B. Maw, Utah Democrat and host to the conference, told a reporter there is little doubt that the bi-partisan organization will approve a resolution endorsing the Marshall plan in principle.

The governors, occupied previously with discussions of tax, landuse, and other problems, turned their attention today to discussion of the organization and administration of state government.

Although sponsored by the veterans classes the meeting is open to all farmers who might be interested.

OHIO G.O.P. AWAITS JULY 31 RALLY DATE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 16—Ohio Republicans circled the "July 31" date on their calendars today and launched preparations for the party's biggest state-wide rally in years, one they expect will find U. S. Senior Robert A. Taft coming out officially for the G.O.P.'s 1948 presidential nomination.

State Chairman Fred H. Johnson and A. A. Hoopingarner, public relations director at state headquarters, said 1,000 party chieftains and organization workers would attend, abetted by most of the Buckeye congressional delegations.

Also invited are a host of Washington political writers.

Although broadcast details still are incomplete, Hoopingarner said Taft would climax the one-day meeting's dinner session with a nat onwide radio address.

Both U. S. Senator John W. Bricker and Gov. Thomas J. Herbert are scheduled to speak during the banquet.

INDEXES FOR BUSINESS VARY

Employment, Income, Production Seem To Indicate High Level, Slump Both.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 16—Employment, income, and production, the three important business indicators, reflect a high level of business but there are some indications of declines, the Cleveland Trust business bulletin said yesterday

There have been price reductions, decreases in employment, and a cut in output in some industries, but most disconcerting is the failure of the construction industry to maintain the expected volume of production, according to the bulletin These changes are important but haven't been serious enough to indicate that a recession is in the making it said

Prices for farm products, on the rise since 1939 have been sustained and lifted by the purchase of the federal government for shipment abroad, the business bulletin said, it is expected that these prices will sag when the demand is reduced but governmental parity supports will not permit them to drop as drastically as they did in 1920, the bulletin stated

National income payments are at an all-time high level—177 billion dollars a year—despite the shrinkage in our expenditure for war. The income payments are partly sustained by the large expenditures for new plants and equipment, these were twice as great in 1946 as they were in 1945 and the bulletin said it expected they will be somewhat larger in 1947

These expenditures not only help to counterbalance the decrease in federal expenditures but will make possible greater production and continued high income, the report said

Production has made little progress during this year, according to the bank, while confidence in the outlook for business has been steadily declining Confidence in the continuation of prosperous business conditions reached a new high immediately following the war, but has been lacking since the beginning of 1946

When investors are optimistic about the general business outlook, they come to regard the prospects of weaker companies as being almost as good as those of the strongest ones, the bulletin added

The report pointed out that from 1940 to the end of 1945, the rise of confidence in business was vigorous and with few interruptions The recent decline has not been severe, it said, but there are indications that investors have doubts about the prospects for business in coming months

Urge Costs Up

Regarding product on costs, the bulletin said wage costs per unit of production in manufacturing were about 73 per cent above their 1939 level, while production per man hour work is about eight per cent higher

Production per work hour was on the upgrade until the spring of 1941 when it declined for about a year, then leveled off and remained about the same during the remainder of the war Both production and employment rose during the war but did not bring about any increase in productivity, the report said

The bulletin said this was due in part to the changeover to new products and the employment of new and inexperienced workers

The wholesale prices of manufacturing goods are now 78 per cent higher than they were in 1939 while wages have risen 73 per cent. But the only way to lower prices is to increase production without a corresponding increase in hourly pay, the report said

Counterfeit Bill in Tree Leads to $1,000,000 Find

Tips Offered on Way To Prevent Fire Damage To Auto

The following article is one of a series prepared by members of the fire prevention committee of the Chamber of Commerce as a means of acquainting Marion residents with the best means of preventing fires and combating them once a blaze starts

* * *

How to prevent fires and what to do if your car catches on fire. Here are some tips

Fires are costly and dangerous with regard to cars and we must apply fire prevention to cars as well as buildings

We can prevent car fires by watching our smoking We should also avoid excessive application of brakes going downhill as friction sets brakes afire If you smell something burning, stop and investigate Also when you fill your gas tank shut the engine off first. Have your service station regularly check your car's fueling system, brakes, wiring, generator, battery, including cables Also keep your car well greased and oiled as lack of proper lubrication generates friction, and friction causes heat and fire

If your car catches fire turn off the ignition key and get everybody out of the car Call the fire department, if possible Use a fire extinguisher if you have one or use whatever is available—water, sand, dirt, a blanket—to smother the flames Keep your back to the wind and fight fire closest to gas tank first but get away if flames are around tank Fight the fire from outside the car and don't crawl underneath your car to get at the flames If engine is burning raise hood, if possible, or squirt stream through louvers. After the fire is out let the vehicle air thoroughly and check to see what started the fire before restarting your engine

Don't Cash GI Bonds Now, Banks Warned

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, July 16—Thomas A. Gallagher, secret service agent in charge here, yesterday told banks and merchants not to redeem or lend money on terminal leave bonds issued to members of the armed forces

They have no value to anyone except the veterans who are the payees, Gallagher said.

His action was taken, he told newsmen, after he had received reports that some local pawn shops had been accepting the terminal leave bonds He said in one instance a pawn broker had loaned about $3,000 on such bonds

Veterans "may be subject to prosecution" if they pass terminal leave bonds on to others by representing them to be negotiable, Gallagher said.

The secret service man said there had been two instances in this area where terminal leave bonds were cashed at department stores

PRIEST'S TIP HELPS TRIP UP RACKETEERS

By The United Press

PITTSBURGH, July 16 — The suspicions of a Cleveland priest resulted in the arrest of a man and his wife who had mulcted several clergymen in a burial swindle.

City Detectives John Philbin and John Mazza, posing as clerks in a downtown Western Union office, yesterday arrested Clifford Rogers, 36, when he tried to collect $40 promised him by Rev. Joseph Butler, pastor of the Sacrament church in Cleveland.

Police said that Rogers confessed posing as a "Dr. Smith" and telephoning Rev. Butler that the body of a Mrs. Clifford Rogers, former Cleveland resident would be cremated unless burial funds were raised. Catholic law forbids cremation.

Rogers told the priest that Mrs. Rogers had died from burns suffered in saving her two small children.

The detectives said the swindle was worked in several southern cities, and that recently three Pittsburgh priests had donated $23 to false burial claims.

Rogers' wife was arrested later in a rooming house. The couple was charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Rogers was also charged with illegal possession of a pistol found in his room.

Bugsy Siegel's Hostess Hospitalized in France

By The Associated Press

PARIS, July 16—Monte Carlo dispatches disclosed today that titian-haired Virginia Hill, in whose California home Benjamin (Bugsy) Siegel was slain last June 20, had been hospitalized there briefly a few days ago and the newspaper Parisien Libere said she had been treated for an overdose of sleeping pills.

The Monte Carlo disclosure followed by less than a week reports from the United States that a "pair of assassins" were enroute to France to "take care" of Miss Hill because she knew too much about Siegel's affairs.

The American girl, who arrived here several days before Siegel was shot to death, checked out of her Paris hotel on July 3 and had not been heard from until today.

Showdown

LABOR UNION leaders will use the new labor-management act as an excuse to intensify their political activity in next year's national campaign. In the meantime, they will dramatize the issue of public control of unions with a disobedience campaign.

This is the gist of everything the leaders are saying. They are advising local unions to disobey the new law, while girding themselves for an all-out battle to defeat all politicians who refuse to give unions everything they demand. The Taft-Hartley act will be perhaps the paramount issue in the 1948 election. Union executives want a showdown.

There should be a showdown. In 1935 congress grappled with a similar issue and told unenlightened employers where to get off. This represented a reaction from lopsided power and, like most reactions, it went too far in the other direction. Many intolerable things have been done under the Wagner act and unreasonable interpretations of that act.

Every individual, every community has a list of grievances compiled during the years when union leaders rode so high they began to think they were celestial. The Taft-Hartley act aims to bring such leaders down to earth. Naturally, they'd rather stay aloft. Subject to the curious code of unionism that says all labor leaders must go to bat for all other labor leaders, right or wrong, the best of the leaders now can be found lining up to demand that the worst of them shall not be deprived of any cherished privilege.

If and when union members learn what the new law provides—not what union spokesmen are telling them it provides—the country can settle the issue of whether labor unions shall be above the law. That has been a red-hot question for more than a decade. It's time to get the answer.

Tit for Tat

CHILE has become browned off in its dealings with Russia over a comparatively trivial matter—Moscow's refusal to allow a Chilean diplomat to take his Russian wife to South America, as a result, Russian diplomats in Santiago will be treated exactly the same as Chile's representatives are treated in Moscow.

We would do well to look into the subject of reciprocity in our dealings with Russia. Despite our housing shortage, Russian representatives in America, having access to ample funds, have been permitted to acquire house and office space far in access of what we have in Russia. There isn't a semblance of equality in our press, diplomatic or military relations. Russia is arbitrary in asserting her rights in foreign countries but is loath to accord the customary diplomatic courtesies to her visitors. This condition won't be remedied until Russia realizes it is to her advantage to remedy it.

Blocking Recovery

ONE of the great stumbling blocks to European recovery is the failure of Americans and British to get the Ruhr coal mines operating at capacity. At present they are producing 216,000 tons a day, about half their capacity. They are highly mechanized mines, little damaged by war. Properly utilized, they are Germany's greatest asset.

The No. 1 objective of the western allied powers should be to get those mines operating at capacity. At present their managers have no incentive to step up output because the old nationalization bogey is on the horizon again. The miners have no incentive to extend themselves because there is little to buy with what they earn.

The question of nationalization needn't concern the occupying powers. Let it be put aside until the Germans are their own rulers again. Let food and goods be made available to the miners and production will soar. The equipped mines are there. The men are there. All that's needed is the impetus to start full-scale operations.

No Safety Device

SUBWAYS being no problem in most places, the curious death of an 11-year-old boy caught on the outside of a closed subway train door last week can be viewed objectively.

The child's hands, it seems, were caught between the rubber-edged doors, enabling them to close; that safety requirement was satisfied. The emergency safety cord was in reach of hundreds of passengers who knew the child was clinging to the outside of the door, held by his imprisoned hands and a toehold on a two-inch ledge. But no one pulled the cord. The passengers watched for seven blocks, until the helpless victim of an oversight was crushed between the subway coach and part of the structure of the next subway station.

It was a curious fatality. By oversight, the passengers hadn't been equipped with enough presence of mind to stop the train. The one thing most conspicuously lacking in the way of safety devices—ordinary common sense—had claimed another victim.

Andrew Jackson defeated the British at New Orleans in 1815.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

More Direct Jabs Coming Between U. S. and Russia.

WASHINGTON, July 16—The tension diplomacy started by Russia over relief will lead us now into a period of more active, aggressive wrist slapping, the top diplomatic men here are figuring.

All our information suggests no war until Russia can get control of the whole of Europe. We do not expect any militant acts by her before that day—if it ever comes. This is the way our people have reasoned out what is behind the news you have been reading in daily dispatches since Russia made her prediction come true that cooperative restoration and relief would divide Europe into east and west—by dividing her part of it from cooperation, arbitrarily.

Russia's internal condition will not permit sustained military action. She needs for war the workability of western Europe to produce economic supplies. She also needs it for political and military protection. She could not start much with any chance of success until she nullifies its nearby opposition potential.

Russia's Intention

The way our officials figure this thing which has come up on relief is that Russia does not intend to let any of her people be exposed to capitalistic benefits at any cost. The Kremlin has started integrating her conquered territories. She has been foisting on them the past two months or more a series of criss-crossed trade treaties. Under these the Russian satellite nations agree individually on trade with each other, but allow Russia to get what she wants first from all. Thus Russia is making quietly a completely meshed hegemony of conquered territory.

Now she has not much to give them, except domination. When one trainload of Russian wheat was sent into Rumania, the Soviet press displayed the news as if Russia was in the relief business. Actually she cannot give anything worth mentioning. She must promote turmoil by delaying restoration until her feeble resources can bring benefits, if ever. At present, she is imposing this policy by direct open political force, as when she officially imposed the decision on Poland and Czechoslovakia to renounce their officially announced decision to go to the Paris conference — against their announced will.

For this kind of game we are fixed rather well. It would be greatly surprising, for instance, if Poland and Hungary gets any of the $350,000,000 which congress has appropriated for central European relief. Poland asked 300,000 tons to make up her deficit alone, before Moscow made her change her mind. Furthermore, if Russia can even hold her own by requiring hungry nations to decline food for political purposes alone, she could do anything with Europe anyway.

Marshall to be Busy

All this will probably keep State Secretary Marshall from a vacation this year. He is going to the South American conference and then to the UN general assembly meeting in September, and possibly also to the Big Four ministers meeting in London in November, if one is held. If Molotov comes to the general assembly in New York, or even attends the scheduled foreign ministers meeting, Marshall would merely talk affairs over.

Incidentally President Truman has not exactly changed his mind about a special session of congress for relief. He does not have a program ready yet, they say. Some of his associates expect the real European crisis will not come until next year. The chance that he may call congress back in October has not been abandoned, but is mereily in abeyance, to see what may come up. He seems to have backed up a bit, temporarily at least, from the multi-billion program into which the Cohen crowd was trying to push him.

The Russian division of Europe has dismayed but not surprised the diplomatic troup around here. They say you cannot divide a Ford into two parts. It would be easier to build a new Ford. They want to make Europe into an integrated machine economically. For answers to this they looked to the Paris conference of the smaller nations to develop cooperative methods to improve industrial capacity. They are tired of just tossing money around.

This is what the administration thinks.

More on Our Heads Than in Them?

The department of commerce reveals that fifty million dollars were spent in the U. S. last year for shampoo, dye and hair tonic. That's an impressive overhead expense.

In fact, hair tonic manufacturers, even as their customers, seem to be coming out on top.

The unprecedented sales of hair tonics constitute an amazing testimonial to the proficiency of modern salesmanship, considering the number of baldheaded barbers.

In fact, it's remarkable how many citizens, reading of preparations claiming only to grow hair on billiard balls, react immediately, "That's for me!"

Personally, I find it disheartening that we annually spend several times as much on dandruff as on caner. Maybe it's a shame the latter doesn't show on a blue serge suit.

Corn Price Sets Meat Supply

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

WASHINGTON—Smaller meat supplies are in prospect for next year as a result of the high price of corn.

Government livestock experts also say that if consumer demand continues strong, meat prices are likely to be higher in 1948 because of the shortened supply.

High prices for corn tend to reduce the future meat supplies because many corn growers figure they can make more money by selling their corn than by feeding it to hogs and cattle. Farmers, particularly those in the corn belt, keep a sharp eye on the hog-corn price ratio.

The Technical Deadline

This ratio means, generally speaking, that when the market price of 100 pounds of hogs is less than the price of 11.5 bushels of corn, hog feeding falls off and corn selling increases. This 100 pounds of hogs to 11.5 bushels of corn is the "signal" for less feeding of corn in normal times, when most hog-feeding farmers are efficient and experienced operators.

However, the big increase in the demand for meat during the war and postwar period brought a large number of inexperienced hog producers into the business. Many of these newcomers figure it pays to stop or reduce corn-feeding when the price of 100 pounds of hogs is less than the price of 13 bushels of corn.

A Department of Agriculture market observer recently estimated that 100 pounds of hogs were bringing in money equivalent to only 10.2 bushels of corn. Corn prices increased considerably after that computation was made.

Fall and Winter Prospects

While prospective reduction in livestock feeding indicates smaller meat supplies next year, butcher shops probably will be heavily stocked in the coming fall and winter months. There has been a record slaughter of cattle and calves this year, and an increased output of pork is indicated for this summer and fall.

The bureau of Agricultural Economics says this year's huge slaughter of cattle and calves will result in a sharp reduction in the number of these animals on farms. Cattle feeding in 1948 probably will be below the high rate of this year. As a result, says the bureau, beef and veal output is expected to be reduced next year.

However, food supply observers say that even if meat output is reduced as much as 18 pounds per person next year, it will not necessarily mean "a critical shortage" except possibly for those who do not have the money to buy meat.

The average consumption per person for the years 1935-1939 was 125.6 pounds, almost 28 pounds less per person than this year's estimated average of 153 pounds. This year's consumption is said to be the largest in 35 years.

State Finance Improving

Revenues Exceed Expenses by Billion.

FINANCIAL structures of the 48 states continued to improve during 1946, a trend started in the 1930's. The improvement is attributed to two primary causes—higher tax receipts with increased prosperity, and postponement of many capital outlays because of wartime conditions.

Tax receipts were 14½ per cent higher than in 1945, the increase reflecting higher expenditures for gasoline, liquor and tobacco. Expenditures were up 6¼ per cent. Because employment totals were high throughout the year, unemployment compensation levies declined about one-fifth.

Total state revenues for 1946 were $7,248,000,000, an increase of more than $2,000,000,000 over 1945, while expenditures totaled $6,217,000,000. Debentures for only $76,000,000 were issued, compared with $160,000,000 for 1945.

Each state dollar expended in 1946 was distributed approximately as follows: 40 cents for operation; 32 cents for aid to local governments; 18 cents for contributions to trust funds and state enterprises; 6 cents for capital outlay, largely highways; 2 cents for sinking funds, and 1 cent for interest.

Each dollar of receipts was collected approximately as follows; 14 cents from unemployment compensation taxes, 69 cents from other taxes, 11 cents from the federal government, and 6 cents from charges and miscellaneous sources.

These states have no long-term debts: Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Nebraska, Nevada, Oklahoma, South Dakota and Wisconsin. Colorado, North Dakota, Utah and Virginia have long-term debts of less than $1,000,000 each.

Says Sulfa, Other Drugs Not Sinus Cure-All

By The United Press

PHILADELPHIA—Dr. Harry P. Schenck of the University of Pennsylvania Hospital warns against indiscriminate use of sulfa drugs, streptomycin and penicillin in the treatment of sinus ailments.

Speaking before the Philadelphia county Medical Society, Dr. Schenck said the drugs have a limited use in the treatment of sinus disorders.

He pointed out that the basic disorder is relieved only by the opening and draining of the congested passages. After the affected areas are drained, he said, the drugs may be applied effectively.

New View of "One World"

By MARK SULLIVAN

WASHINGTON, July 16—For reasons which are understandable, our heads of government refrain from speaking about our relations with Russia as evident as the facts are. This official restraint prevents our people from fully grasping the attitude of the Russian government, and the breach into two worlds which it harshly emphasized. Understanding of the condition is imperative, for it puts our people under the necessity of changing their thinking about one world.

Our government, acting in the interest of co-operation for world recovery, proposed that the countries of Europe get together for mutual self-help toward economic recovery. We said that after the European countries had done this, we would help—contribute funds, food, machinery, every sort of aid.

The proposal, called the "Marshall Plan," was hailed by Britain and France, but Russian Foreign Minister Viacheslav M. Molotov warned them against the plan, tried to intimidate them. They went on; nevertheless, invited twenty-two European governments to a conference at Paris. Sixteen of the governments accepted, and the conference is now in session. Eight governments, with Russia, are not present—the eight that are closest to Russia's borders and are in varying degrees of willingness and duress subject to Russian domination. Their absence, and the reasons for it, tell the story. In the case of two, the reasons came out.

Stark About-Face

In the case of Poland, an official statement of the Polish Embassy in Washington on July 2 said: "We would like to take part in discussions relative to . . . the Marshall plan and eventually to present suggestions of the Polish government." A few days later the Polish government declined to participate in the conference.

The case of Czechoslovakia is stark. At first that government announced it would participate in the conference, and sent a plane-load of technicians to Paris. A few days later the Czech Prime Minister and Foreign Minister flew to Moscow and had an interview with Prime Minister Stalin. From Moscow the Czech Prime Minister telephoned his government at Prague that it must withdraw its earlier acceptance. In doing this the Czech government said officially: "Acceptance of the invitation might be construed as an action against the Soviet Union."

Both Czechoslovakia and Poland wished to take part in the conference. Both could have made important contributions to the recovery of Europe, and both desperately needed the help from Europe and the United States that the Marshall plan assured. Both countries were forced by Russia, in the most humiliating way, to refuse.

Russians Reasons

Why did Russia thus make plain the breach between her and the western world? An answer that receives much credence in Washington is that Russia could not afford to have the Marshall plan succeed, could not afford to have the world see co-operation between America and western Europe, it would lessen her hold on Communists in every country. Especially she could not let the Marshall plan succeed in helping the countries under her domination. Success would show them the way of escape from their subservience.

While our government continues its restraint, occasional signs emerge which show that it recognizes the facts. In the magazine "Foreign Affairs" of last week is an article which, while anonymous, is generally supposed to have been written by a high official of the State Department. The article contains a warning: "There can never be on Moscow's side any sincere assumption of a community of aim between the Soviet Union and powers which are regarded as capitalist." The United States "must continue to regard the Soviet Union as a rival not a partner, in the political arena."

The ominous condition which America must grasp was put in clear words by an able young Congressman, Representative Clifford T. Case, Republican, of New Jersey: "No longer can we avoid the conclusion that Russia's purpose is the opposite to our own—To create confusion, perpetuate disaster, and bring chaos everywhere beyond her borders, in the hope that eventually democracy will be destroyed throughout the world. It is time for us to face the fact that we must act, not only without Russia's help, but in the face of her stubborn opposition . . . that our dream of one world, in which peoples of conflicting ideologies will live together in peace, cannot now be realized."

Home Is Where the Snafu Begins

The more a man tries to get a home or fix one up today the more he envies the woodpecker and the squirrel. Not to forget the blanket Indian and the cave dweller.

* * *

To own a home has ever been an attainment for which every man hoped. Now it represents the execution of a miracle. The old poem says, "Oh, give me a house by the side of the road," but we will settle for a crate, piano box or tent.

* * *

Man is not only in the doghouse but in a doghouse with three walls missing and only a few planks in the floor.

* * *

Despite the fact that prices are driving buyers off the market, building supply prices and building labor are at record highs. Hardwood oak flooring which used to sell at $118 a thousand feet now brings $125. Rough framing has gone from $50 a thousand feet to $125. Brick is up from $13 a thousand to $25.50. Cement is a form of wealth. If you have a bag of plaster you have struck it rich.

* * *

The situation calls for Aladdin's Lamp but if we managed to get one today we probably couldn't get parts for it.

* * *

Our re-confusion is a great success. It looks like a plot to keep man from getting under cover.

* * *

In the toughest days of the pioneers a man could get himself a house. All he needed was an ax. Today an ax would blunt itself on the skull of our snafu experts.

* * *

Our pop could get a three-family house built like a fort for what is asked today for a quick collapsible bungalow with hot and cold prodding, running indignation and a one-car pigeon loft.

* * *

Some of those new houses for the veterans would have been rejected as garages in his day.

* * *

And grandpop used to put more time, lumber and care into a henhouse than is put into some of the latest homes. We have seen porches today that wouldn't have been regarded as strong enough to stand the strain in baby-chick boxes.

* * *

And doors that any old time builder would have thought too thin for partitions in egg crates seem to be quite the thing in modern construction.

* * *

But still half a hut is better than none and millions of people are asking no more than a house number, a few yards of plumbing and a couple of walls. What pains 'em is that they are hard to get with American money.

Statistics

By TRUMAN TWILL

As if there weren't enough things to worry about, look at the statistics on Ethiopia.

Only .001 of the population ever has seen a bathtub, and according to Dr. Gullap of the University of Addis Ababa less than .00001 per cent ever has been in one. Ethiopia's consumption of vitamin tablets during the fiscal year 1946 was the lowest (*) on record. The country's water power is going under the bridge at the rate of 1,500,000 pony power per man-days, and the railroad is not electrified one inch of its 487-mile length.

In a study conducted by the Jibuti Institute of Social Science, 100 per cent of the natives over 21 and unmarried were thinking of getting married. The country has the lowest divorce rate of any of the great powers fronting on the Gulf of Aden. This is only partly offset by one of the highest rates for being trampled by jackasses (three out of every thousand over 14, including both sexes) known in any place in the world outside the District of Columbia.

Ethiopians eat almost no tomatoes. Per capita consumption of tomatoes, as the result of an intensive advertising campaign based on findings by Hamilton Fish Stringer—based on Ethiopians over the age of 11—has risen from .004 of a pound apiece per tomato year to .005. Mr. Stringer, a marketing analyst, has pointed out that this might be due to discrepancies in the green grocers' scales.

Ethiopians own no airplanes—only one legitimate ownership to each 6,000,000 natives. Their leadership of comic books, newspapers, Survey Graphic and the rag-paper edition of the New York Times was comparable to that of Mississippi's Bilbo belt, called 'disgraceful' by Owen Z. Wurz (). Only one out of every 3,000,000 Ethiopians ever heard of these contrivances.

Ethiopians use almost no mustard (one cake per 27,573,630 meals, on the average.) They do not believe bathing suits for women are excessively scanty; 99 per cent of those questioned on the average—100 per cent of the males—saw no reason to wear bathing suits at all.

They do not favor cereal for breakfast (only 7 per cent admitted they ever eat anything but fried goat) and are a ready market for play suits, collapsible opera hats, and lightning rods. Out of 1,347,098 miles of roads and trails only five are hard-surfaced. The country is a mess. Only .00004 of the Ethiopians above the age of puberty know this, however, which is something to think about.

*Only one vitamin tablet reached the country and it's still on the mantel in a box on the mantlepiece in the emperor's palace.

British Hint Peacetime Draft for Factories

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 16 — Britain's labor government was confronted today with a controversy-provoking proposal for a peacetime draft of so-called "non-productive" workers to fill the manpower gaps in industry which are slowing the nation's economic recovery.

The explosive suggestion was advanced by Arthur Deakin, general secretary of the powerful Transport and General Workers union, in a speech directly counter to long-standing union opposition to labor conscription and piece work pay.

"There are thousands of people who ought to be put into productive industry and at once," Deakin declared after asserting that organized labor "must of necessity expect a limited measure of direction."

Many observers believed that Deakin's speech was merely a trial balloon released with the approval of a cautious government seeking the reaction of trade union members on which its political strength is based

Auto Voted To First Winner

Club Changes Mind About Denying Negro Car He Won on Ticket.

AHOSKIE, N. C., July 16—The Ahoskie Kiwanis club changed its mind today and voted to give a new automobile to a 23-year-old war veteran who won a Cadillac in a Kiwanis raffle but was not allowed to keep it because he was a Negro

The club's action was taken by the board of directors after the incident had aroused a storm of protest over the nation and had drawn criticism from Dr Charles W. Armstrong of Salisbury, N. C president of Kiwanis international.

The announcement of the club's action was made by Dr Armstrong in Salisbury and by Kiwanis International headquarters in Chicago Local leaders declined to comment and referred all questions to Dr Armstrong.

The club's president said in Salisbury the club had voted to give Harvey Jones 23-year-old Negro tenant farmer, a new Cadillac "on recommendation of the president of Kiwanis International"

Held Lucky Number

Jones held the lucky number for the $3,200 automobile at a recent lottery but was told he was not eligible to win it because the dance at which the drawing was held was only for white people

Armstrong said 'the policies of Kiwanis International strongly disapprove of lotteries in any form While the Ahoskie club contends the manner in which is awarded this car was not a lottery, there is a very thin line of demarcation"

Lotteries are not legal in North Carolina.

Armstrong said he was "cautioning all other clubs to be careful in their money raising activities" but had not singled out Ahoskie for particular censure

President Rupert Massey of the local club was not immediately available for comment It was not known when the car would be given to the Negro

Draws Editorial Criticism

The incident had drawn editorial criticism form all sections of the country One New York newspaper (PM) had started a "Cadillac fund" to buy Jones a car like the one he won but did not receive

Jones said he first learned he had won the $3,200 car when Hertford County Sheriff Charles Parker called on him early Saturday morning

'The sheriff told me I had the lucky number,' Jones said, 'but I couldn't win the car because it wasn't for colored people'

The Ahoskie Kiwanis president, Rupert Massey, blamed it all on a misunderstanding. He said club members were instructed to sell chances only to white persons

Jones said the sheriff explained to him that he couldn't claim the prize because Negroes were excluded from the dance where the drawing was held

The Negro said he voluntarily surrendered the ticket to the sheriff, although it read, "you do not have to be present to win"

Massey, who said the event was held to raise money for underprivileged, added that at least six Negroes bought chances He said the r money, a dollar a chance, would be returned.

On a redrawing, the car was won by Charles Townes retired Waverly, Va, physician who already owned a Cadillac

TRUMAN ASKS SPEED IN FLOOD CONTROLS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 16—President Truman recommended to congress today an immediate start upon a 10-year program for controlling floods and developing water resources of the Mississippi river basin He asked $250 000,000 to get the work under way.

In a special message, Mr. Truman outlined a program that embraced also navigation, irrigation, hydroelectric power development and other utilization of water resources But he said flood control must come first in the light of flood losses on the Missouri and Mississippi this year that may exceed $500,000,000.

The President noted that many of the necessary flood control projects already have been authorized by congress and added

"What we need to do is to take immediate advantage of the Mississippi basin's authorizations totaling almost $6,000,000 000—which the congress has already voted for flood control and related purposes

'Of this amount, from three and a half to four billion dollars is either directly or closely related to flood control

'Let us through the next 10 years accelerate our program and put this money to work, to gather with such additional money as may be required and as our economy from year to year shall permit In that way we shall save ourelves untold millions and pave the way for the wealth production that surely will flow from the integrated development of our valleys"

Specifically, the President asked at this session of congress, in addition to funds already made available, $237,000,000 for the Army engineers who handle flood control, $10,000 000 for the reclamation bureau and $3,000 000 for the soil conservation service

Speculation Varies Widely on Car Market

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, July 16—Next to probable mechanical changes in the 1948 model automobiles the hottest subject of speculation in motorcar circles right now is when the average individual will be able to get a car—new or used—without paying some form of premium for it.

It has been fairly well established that automatic gearshifts and transmissions will be offered as optional equipment on most makes in 1948, but there is a wide divergence or opinion as to when the buyers market will return

The guesses range all the way from 'next spring' to 'several years hence'

The industry authorities who see normal delivery of new cars still a long way off declare there can be no buyers' market until a balance has been restored between new and used cars That, of course, cannot materialize until the backlog of unfilled new car orders has been liquidated.

Wage Parley Set Tuesday

Sessions Looking Toward Revision of Women's Minimum Pay Near.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 16 — The first of a series of sessions looking towards upward revision of minimum wage rates for women and minors employed in certain Ohio industries opens here next Tuesday.

W J Rogers, state industrial relations director, today called a meeting on that date of a new nine-member board appointed to review wage standards for hotels and restaurants throughout Ohio.

Named last June 26, the board is composed of three representatives of industry and a like number from labor and the public. It is required to make its recommendations to the director within 60 days after organization.

A preliminary survey of the hotel and restaurant industries in Ohio showed they were paying "considerably more than the minimum wage rates established by the state 10 years ago," Rogers said.

"They should be modernized to meet present-day economic conditions," he added.

Rates vary in different localities but in general minimum rates for women and minors employed by hotels and restaurants in cities over 100,000 population are $10.50 weekly for non-service workers, such as dishwashers, and $7.50 a week for service help, such as waitresses.

The rates in those respective categories range from $9 to $7 weekly in cities between 5,000 and 100,000 population, to $8 and $6.25 in towns of less than 5,000.

The state also has minimum wage standards for the laundry, dry cleaning and beauty shop industries.

Rogers' office said that at the request of Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, minimum wage review boards probably would be created to study standards in those occupations.

The state later may consider whether to establish minimum wage standards for women and minors working as clerks and office employes, a spokesman reported.

Miss Annie Lockett of Springfield is one of the public representatives on the review board.

He believed, however, that one or more experimental or demonstration atomic power plants "will be in operation within two to five years."

Such plants probably will become economically feasible for many applications, he said, but the development of economically competitive atomic power is a long term project, possibly requiring decades."

Winnie said atomic power plants to propel large ocean steamers probably would be the first typical application. If such plants were built, a large steamer could cross the ocean and return on no more than a pea-sized lump of atomic fuel.

JOHN QUINCY ADAMS THEME OF CLUB TALK

Earl Hale Discusses Life of Distinguished American.

"Introducing a Great American" was the subject of the talk given by Earl N. Hale before Rotarians Tuesday in their weekly luncheon meeting at Hotel Harding.

Mr Hale introduced in his talk a great American whom he says "he holds in high esteem," John Quincy Adams. Explaining that Adams is too little known by most people and too much misunderstood by some people, Mr Hale stated his reason for talking about Adams was that his birthday was Friday, July 11.

Mr. Hale continued by saying that John Quincy Adams, the sixth president of the United States and the son of John Adams, second president, was born in 1767 in the town of Quincy, Mass. His father had a long and distinguished career of public service, and his mother, Abigail Smith Adams, was one of the great women in American history.

The following facts concerning John Quincy Adams were reviewed by Mr Hale: he was graduated from Harvard College and then for three years studied law practiced law for a few years and then started on his long and brilliant career of public service among his public positions were minister to England, Prussia, Russia, senator from Massachusetts, U S senator, secretary of state under Monroe, and for 17 years a member of the house of representatives. He had many hobbies and was a religious man.

Because of Adam's wide and varied knowledge, Mr Hale stated that he was sometimes called "the walking encyclopedia," and because of his skill as a speaker and debator, was also called "Old Man Eloquent."

Before his talk, Mr Hale reminded the club that on July 26, this year, the Lincoln papers will be opened in Washington, D C. Before Robert Todd Lincoln, son of Abraham Lincoln, died, he gave the papers to the government with the provision that they could not be opened until 21 years after his death. He died July 26 1926.

Guests were Bert Hayes of Cleveland, Dan Weber of Lancaster, Ray Keeler of Galion, Russell Mantz of Toledo, and J Kenneth Staats and Dr. Fred A Stengel, of Marion.

HEAVY STORM CAUSES LOSS IN DELAWARE

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, July 16—An electrical storm accompanied by high winds caused property damage and disrupted power and telephone service here Monday night.

Residential sections of the city were without electric lighting and many were without telephone service. A fire which caused an estimated property loss of $1,000 resulted when lightning struck the home of Herbert Goodwin.

The Goodwins were unable to summon the fire department immediately, because there was no phone service in their neighborhood. A neighbor, Miss Elizameth Genthner, drove to the station to summon firemen. In the meantime neighbors and the Goodwins fought the fire, which started unnoticed in the attic, with hose and buckets of water.

Rainfall was reported at approximately .8 of an inch by the government weather recording station.

Power and telephone company crews were busy yesterday repairing the damage. Service was restored in most areas by noon yesterday.

Damage in the county was not so extensive. Scattered sections were without power or telephone service for a while, however.

quantities not exceeding their last year's usage. Mr. Snarkey said:

"So far as we can now see, there is no cause for alarm. I doubt that any dealer in the Marion division will be appreciably reduced in his present sales.

Other major oil companies have been reported as already allocating supplies of gasoline in Ohio. A survey of five other companies with distributors here revealed that none as yet received notification of a similar policy going into effect with their companies.

FRESH BLOOD A MUST FOR FREE ENERGY

Do you feel like you are tied to a drag everytime you try to do something? If so, don't let a low blood count hold you down when you may release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. SHORT OF STEEL, GM SHUTS PLANTS

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, July 16—General Motors Corp. will take a week off from manufacturing passenger cars, starting Monday, because of the steel industry's "disturbed conditions."

GM which makes roughly half of the nation's automobiles, said its steel supplies were too short to permit full-time operations. It blamed the "coal-mining situation" of early July.

Ultimately 150,000 workers will be laid off from the corporation's assembly lines, a GM spokesman said. The corporation, which employs a total of 265,000 production workers recently reached a weekly output of 30,000 cars.

There were no immediate indications, however, that other major manufacturers of motorcars would follow suit.

GM's President C. E. Wilson announced the shutdown plans.

Plants in Michigan, employing 115,000 workers, will be closed first, and another 65,000 will be laid off as other plants become affected through lack of supplies from feeder plants in Michigan.

Truck operations will not be affected nor will GM's household appliance plants, the corporation said. Truck production recently was curtailed for model changes.

General Motors makes Buick, Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile and Cadillac cars.

Bullets Which Missed Bricker Bring Mail Run

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, July 16—The two pistol shots which missed Sen. John W. Bricker, Ohio Republican, last Saturday today produced as much mail as a full-fledged controversy in congress.

With very few exceptions, the letters expressed satisfaction that Bricker escaped unhurt.

An Ohio friend wrote "Glad you have become important enough to be shot at. Maybe that means something."

Weather Cuts Down Use of Playgrounds

Playground attendance last week slumped from the previous week's turnout of over 2,000 persons to 1,200 using the facilities of the four city parks, according to the weekly report issued by Joseph Petrich, playground director.

Necessary repair of park facilities is going on as rapidly as conditions will allow.

FIVE INJURED IN 2 TRAFFIC MISHAPS

Patrol Reports Accidents in Morrow County.

Five persons, including a five-year-old girl, were injured Tuesday night and this morning in automobile accidents, state patrolmen report.

Susan Jaggers, 5, suffered shock when a car, driven by her father, Ivan Jaggers of North Greenwood street, collided head on with a farm truck on state route 529, five miles southeast of Mt. Gilead at approximately 7:30 p. m. yesterday. Mr. Jaggers suffered cuts on the right arm, bruised knees, and abrasions. His wife, Virginia Jaggers, another passenger, suffered shock and cuts and bruises on the face.

All were taken to City hospital by the Craven ambulance of Mt. Gilead and released after treatment.

Driver of the truck was Glenn Clark, 18, of near Marengo. He was uninjured. A passenger, Junior Kitts, 15, of Fulton suffered face injuries. All injured were treated at the scene by Dr. Sweeny of Mt. Gilead.

Highway patrolmen said the accident resulted when both the car and the truck met at the top of the hill. Damage to the front end of both vehicles was extensive.

A one car accident occurred Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. on route 95 west of Edison. Miss Mary Peterson of near Edison was driving west and her car overturned. She was taken to Dr. Ingmire's office in Mt. Gilead and treated for shock and head cuts and bruises.

Because the left rear tire was flat, patrolmen believe the accident was caused by a blowout. The left side of the car was damaged.

CINCINNATI, July 16 — The new board of education at North College Hill last night reappointed Dr. William A. Cook as superintendent of schools for a three year period.

While patrolman Floyd Wilson was attempting to arrest Niquette Tuesday on West Center street near the Pennsylvania railroad, Niquette resisted Wilson and threatened him with a knife, Wilson said.

Wilson succeeded in making the arrest with the aid of bystanders. It was the thirteenth arrest for Niquette and the fifth for resisting an officer, police said. When arraigned in court yesterday Niquette pleaded not guilty.

Former Morral Couple Lose Last Child in Crash

Mrs. Hugh Moore of 409 Bellefontaine avenue received word last night that her niece, Miss Valeria Busler, 19, of Folsom, Mont., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Busler of that city, former residents of Marion county, was killed in a plane crash yesterday at Folsom. Full details of the accident have not been learned by Moore.

The Busler family left here about 18 years ago to make their home in Montana. Miss Busler visited here for several months last fall with Mrs. Moore. Funeral services are to be conducted Saturday in Folsom, with burial in that city.

A son of the Buslers' David, was drowned Nov. 19, 1946, in Flathead Lake at Folsom, Mont. He was 21. They were the only children in the family.

While in Marion county, Mr. and Mrs. Busler resided at Morral. Mr. Busler was a ball player, having played with the Columbus Senators, now the Red Birds, and later, before moving west, with a team in Canada.

Other relatives here include Mrs. Edwin Brewer of north of Marion, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Busler, and several cousins.

MARSHALL URGES ENTRY OF DISPLACED PERSONS

Says U. S. Should Admit Them To Ease Russian Relations.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 16—Secretary of State Marshall urged today that the United States admit a "substantial number" of Europe's 850,000 displaced persons, partly to remove a source of "conflict and friction" with Russia.

Marshall told a house judiciary subcommittee that to accede to repeated Russian demands and forcibly return "these allies of ours" to their prewar homes would violate both American tradition and principles adopted by the United Nations general assembly.

But as long as they remain in Germany and until they can strike new roots elsewhere in friendly soil, the displaced persons will remain a "constant source of international friction," Marshall said.

His testimony was prepared in support of a bill to admit 400,000 of the refugees into the United States as immigrants over a four year period.

Congressional leaders have virtually ruled out any chance for enactment of the measure before next week's scheduled adjournment.

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.
If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself; eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

PILES ARE NEVER "MILD"
DANGER IN NEGLECT
No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.
Although they may seem a mild ailment, especially when not giving any pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.
Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling and general nervous irritability.
Removal of piles is the only permanent relief — without surrender. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and helps in the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties. Why not call and learn of this method? The consultation is free.

In Memory
★Of my dear husband, J. Frank Holliday, who passed away July 16, 1944.
I am sad within my memory,
Lonely is my heart today.
For the one I loved so dearly
Has forever been called away.
I think of him in silence.
No eye may see me weep,
But many silent tears are shed
When others are asleep.
Some may think that I have forgotten,
Some may think the wound is healed,
But little do they know the sorrow
That is in my heart concealed.
Oh! what would I give to touch his hand,
His happy face to see,
To hear his voice and see his smile
It would mean so much to me.
Just when his days seemed brightest,
Just when his hopes seemed best,
God called him from amongst us
To his eternal rest.
Sadly missed, but God knows best.

Ringling Trained Animal Act

Natural enemies of the forest and jungle provide lively workout for their trainer.

You have to have nerve to handle the big mixed groups of jungle-bred wild animals in the steel arenas of the Ringling Bros and Barnum and Bailey circus, coming to Marion Friday afternoon and night at the Drake showgrounds

But it takes a special kind of nerve—a kind of cautious courage that keeps a man from taking foolish chances for wild beasts have an uncanny instinct which tells them when a trainer is afraid or when he hasn't complete control of his mental and physical faculties That's why wild animal trainers must avoid drinking alcohol beverages before going in to face the big cats The lions, tigers jaguars leopards and even the bears seem to sense anything unsteady in the behavior of the trainer and while you must necessarily turn your back on a considerable number of wild animals when the cage is literally filled with them still you must never let them get out of your mind

Keeping mental tabs on the position of the beasts on their various pedestals and perches around the circular, steel-barred arena is coupled with another requirement of the hazardous business of wild animal training the rule of not letting the beasts leave their positions unless they are being put through a trick Animals off their perches and roaming the cage at will may spring on the trainer

On their pedestals they haven't much purchase for springing Some of the loudest, like barking dogs, are the safest, while a quiet sullen jungle creature often is murder-bent and only awaiting a good chance The trainer of a mixed group not only must look out for his own safety he must keep peace in the big cage, and in a circle filled with wild animals from various continents this requires the diplomacy and firmness of a United Nations chairman.

SENATE GROUP O.K.'S SEAWAY POWER PLAN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 16 — A senate foreign relations subcommittee Tuesday approved legislation to authorize the St. Lawrence seaway and power project

Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) called the subcommittee action "a major step forward toward the completion of a long-dreamed project which is so vital to the national plans of two good neighbors, the United States and Canada."

The legislation, which must be acted upon by both the senate and house, would approve a 1941 United States-Canadian agreement on the project and authorize its construction on a self-liquidating basis.

It would authorize the President to construct this country's share of the project — principally the international rapids section and the dredging of connecting channels in the Great Lakes

The subcommittee, in its report, said "beyond doubt the St Lawrence seaway and power project would contribute materially to the defense of North America"

The locks and power house, it said, would be no more vulnerable than Grand Coulee the Soo locks the Niagara power plant, or New York City, Washington, Montreal Boston, Cleveland or Chicago

Escapee's Freedom Cut Short by Boys

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, July 16—William Mochinal, 23-year-old Mansfield reformatory escapee, was returned to the institution Tuesday by reason of quick action on the part of two Bucyrus boys. Mochinal enjoyed his freedom just 90 minutes. The two boys, Don Green and Jim Baum, both about 10, were playing near the city garage when they saw Mochinal hiding in the weeds back of the garage. Realizing the situation was unusual, the boys ran to the police station and reported that a man "with blue pants and red stripes" was hiding in the weeds.

Police and a sheriff's deputy cornered Mochinal. He escaped from the reformatory while helping load furniture on a truck, reformatory officials explained.

Serving a one to 15 year term for breaking and entering in Stark county, he now must face the reformatory court which will decide whether he serves an additional year, customary penalty for escaping.

Tiffin Horseman Leaves $3,000 to Favorite Steed

By The Associated Press

TIFFIN, O., July 16—A bequest establishing a 3,000 trust fund for his favorite horse, Callie Direct, was included in the will of the late Frank S. Callahan, 82-year-old Tiffin horseman, when it was filed yesterday for probate.

The estate, estimated at more than $500,000, provides that Mrs. Elizabeth Jenkins Callahan of Youngstown, will receive half of it and charitable institutions will share in the balance.

Besides the trust fund for the horse, Callahan left another $2,000 for the maintenance of the grave of a pet dog and $500 for a monument for Callie Direct after her death.

Truman Lists His Messages To Solons

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 16—White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross Tuesday gave his tentative schedule of presidential messages to congress, which hopes to adjourn by the end of next week.

▶ A message calling for a comprehensive flood control program from the Appalachians to the Rockies probably will go to Capitol Hill tomorrow or Thursday.

▶ The message vetoing the new $4,000,000,000 tax reduction bill will be sent to the house this week, likely Friday.

▶ A long economic report probably will be made next Monday, rather than this week as previously indicated.

In addition, Ross said President Truman hopes to be able to announce before the end of the week the appointment of a central counsel and two members of the national labor relations board. Both require senate confirmation.

Crawford Co. Road Contract Awarded

The Ohio Road Improvement Co. of Columbus has been awarded a contract for asphaltic improvement of about eight miles of roadway in Crawford, Huron and Erie counties by the state highway department, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Columbus. The company's bid for the project was $29,755. The highway department had given an estimate of $28,388.

The John F. Casey Co. of Pittsburgh for the second time submitted a bid higher than the state highway engineers' estimate for the cost of constructing a railroad grade elimination and bridge over the Tuscarawas river in Massillon yesterday.

The Casey Co. bid was $895,632, as compared with the state estimate of $766,000. The company's previous bid was slightly under $1,000,000.

The first time the project was advertised no bids were received.

The highway department must decide whether to accept the offer of the Casey Co., which was the only bidder today, or again advertise the project.

And they tied screaming women and children on their tanks so the Czech civilians would hold their sniping fire.

Helpless against the stronger German firepower, the Czech patriots sent delegation after delegation to Pilsen to urge the American Third army to hurry into Prague and save them. They met a surprising answer:

"We cannot move beyond Pilsen."

Ordered To Halt

Under a high level Allied agreement American forces were under unalterable orders to halt there and wait for the Russians to link up with them. This was to avoid any accidental collision between the two armies.

The Czech liaison messengers pleaded with tear-filled eyes for help. Doughboys and tankmen of the American Second Infantry division volunteered to form a rescue expediton to Prague. Their commander reluctantly forbade it.

The leaders of the Prague uprising—a gallant gesture in itself but completely unwanted by Allied strategists—must save themselves as best they could until the Russians arrived from the other side.

That was the dismal message that went back to the embattled capital from the American lines.

The next morning Cy Peterman of the Philadelphia Inquirer and I set out in a jeep for Prague on the main road. We drove 25 miles past a solid mass of retreating fully armed German troops. It was one of the stupendous sights of the war. Not a German hindered us.

The last Nazi tanks were trundling out of Prague as we entered. The city was wild with joy. Cheering Czechs danced around the bloody street barriers.

Bodies still lay in the streets and German collaborators were being fiercely beaten by maddened civilians.

Half an hour later we stood at a downtown street intersection, the Soviet vanguard entered on motorcycles. A Russian lieutenant who never had seen an American uniform started to shoot us down, but Czech civilians stopped him. Then the Russian armor began wheeling in, and Prague erupted in red banners and American flags.

But the question the Czechs asked over and over was:

"Why didn't you Americans come first to save us?"

And all the high level explanations didn't satisfy them at all. They knew only that their capital had been at stake, and we didn't come—and the Russians did.

That's a day Czechoslovakia remembers—as she moves deep into the Soviet political and economic orbit.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

Symptoms

SYMPTOMS are like tale-bearers. Just as an informer puts the finger on a law-breaker, so symptoms give evidence of diseased conditions. But sometimes they are like gossips, too, bearing witness against so many different culprits that it is impossible to pick the right one by consulting symptoms alone.

Hoarseness is one of these. It definitely indicates trouble in the larynx or voice-box, but alone it does little to tell exactly what the trouble is. Thus, according to Dr. Louis H. Clerf of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, to determine the cause of hoarseness, it is necessary to examine the larynx.

Hoarseness may be the only symptom of tuberculosis of the lungs, cancer of one of the bronchi or one of the tubes in the lungs, or cancer in the upper part of the esophagus which leads from the mouth to the stomach. It may also develop in certain conditions affecting the blood, in allergy or sensivity to foods or other substances and it may occur in heart, blood vessel and kidney disorders, as well as in conditions affecting the nervous system.

It may also develop from disorders affecting the larynx directly, such as an acute or chronic inflammation and tumors.

Thus, when hoarseness develops which continues for a period of two or more weeks, it is necessary that a complete and careful study of the patient be carried out promptly. This includes X-ray of the chest and studies of the blood and the stomach.

In addition, direct examination of the larynx itself with a laryngoscope is advisable.

In many instances, in order to make a diagnosis, it may be necessary that a bit of the tissue from the lining membrane of the larynx be cut off, working through a larynogoscope. This tissue is then examined under the microscope.

Cancer of the larynx produces hoarseness as an early symptom. Since such cancers develop slowly and spread only after they have been present for some time, early recognition is a great boon, early opportunity for proper treatment which will result in a cure in from 80 per cent to 90 per cent of the cases.

Unforunately, many patients with hoarseness fail to heed this warning sign and do not have treatment until the cancer has progressed to the point where a serious operation with removal of the larynx is required.

Other causes for continued hoarseness are syphilis and tuberculosis of the larynx. Syphilis of the larynx, according to Dr. Clerf, is rather rare. Both of these conditions may be diagnosed by examination of the larynx.

Bear in mind that when hoarseness has been present for more than two weeks, examination with the laryngoscope should be carried out without delay.

YANKEES WIN 16th STRAIGHT TO THREATEN AL RECORD

Sight Chisox 19-Victory Mark After Clipping Cleveland Twice

By The Associated Press

One of the American league's most majestic marks—the 19 consecutive victories by the Chicago White Sox, famous hitless wonders of 1906—was threatened today by the New York Yankees

The onrushing Bronx Bombers now boast 16 straight wins—a mark the old Yankees of Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, and Tony Lazzeri reached back in 1928 then were stopped the next day.

The 1912 Washington Senators and 1931 Philadelphia Athletics won 17 straight each, but got no further.

Top Record Distant

The major league record of 26 straight by the New York Giants of 1916 still is too far off to be given and serous thought.

In winning both ends of a twilight-night doubleheader from the Indians in Cleveland before a huge turnout of 62,355 paid fans yesterday, 9-4 and 2-1, the Yankees got their 16th win at the expense of the great Bob Feller, after copping the opener easily behind the 10-hit hurling of ex-Indian Allie Reynolds

For eight innings of the second game the mayors' strikeout king held the New Yorkers and pitcher Floyd (Bill) Bevens even 1-1. But in the ninth, Joe DiMaggio reached base and with two out carried the all-important run over the plate when Billy Johnson rammed a triple

Blackell Gets 14th

Another consecutive win streak, perhaps more remarkable if not as spectacular as the Yankees' skein, belongs to Ewell Blackell, Cincinnati's sensational stringbean right-hander Blackwell pitched his 14th straight victory last night as the Reds hit the 500 mark with a 5-4 win over the Phillies in Philadelphia

Pittsburgh's last place Pirates handed National league leading Brooklyn a double setback 12-4 and 9-3 at Ebbets field Led by rookie outfielder Wally Westlake, who drove in seven runs with a base-clearing double and grand slam homer, the Bucs walloped four Dodger hurlers for 10 hits in the opener. They combed three more Brooklyn pitchers for 13 safeties in the nightcap.

Giants Whip Cubs

With Dave Koslo pitching five-hit ball, the Giants shut out the Chicago Cubs at the Polo grounds 4-0.

Scoring four runs in each of the sixth and eighth innings after being held hitless for five frames by rookie Walt Lanfranconi, the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Braves 8-2 in Boston.

The Tigers, playing to their smallest twilight game crowd of the season—11,378 paid fans—scored four runs in the sixth inning to overcome a 5-4 Washington lead and went on to win 11-6

Scoring four runs in the seventh inning, the Chicago White Sox down Tex Hughson and the Boston Red Sox 5-1 in Chicago.

Although he lost his shutout in the ninth inning when Vern Stephens tripled and scored on Jeff Heath's infield out, Paul Marchildon gained his 10th victory when he pitched the Philadelphia Athletics to an 8-1 triumph over the Browns in St Louis.

When Will Yanks Stop? Is New Cry In American Loop

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 16 — That old cry of "Who's going to stop the Yankees" was changed to "When are the Yankees going to stop" today after the red-hot New Yorkers chalked up their 15th and 16th straight victories in a double-header with Cleveland last night.

Last night's twi-night bill turned into a thriller as the Yanks won the nightcap, 2 to 1, after the Tribe booted away the opener, 9-4

Bob Feller came within an eyelash of stopping the Yanks' streak in the second game, but a couple of men named Joe DiMaggio and Bill Johnson blasted Rapid Robert's bid for his 12th victory.

The score was knotted at 1-all in the ninth, with one away when DiMaggio lined a single to left, advanced to second when George McQuinn grounded out, and scored when Bill Johnson picked on one of Feller's fast balls and tripled to right.

Floyd Bevens gave only six hits, one a home run by Lou Boudreau. A triple by Tommy Henrich and Johnny Lindell's long fly gave the Yanks their first run

Allie Reynolds, the erstwhile Indian traded to New York last year, had things very much his own way in the opener. He scattered 10 hits and never was in serious trouble as his teammates blasted out the same number of blows, including home runs by DiMaggio and George McQuinn, and took advantage of five Cleveland errors

A triple by Lindell with the bases clogged also paved the way for New York's easy victory

Louis Nixes Bum of The Month Club

Not Fighting This Year, He Tells Jacobs; Jersey Joe Relieved.

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 16 — Joe Louis, businessman and sometime fighter, indicated today through his emissaries that he was completely disinterested in starting another "Bum of the Month Club" for the heavyweight championship of the world

Shrouding his movements behind a personal iron curtain, Joe was harder to see than the inside of a harem He came to town ostensibly to discuss his future box fighting plans but, showing that he has the leather pushing industry over a barrel, he made Jacobs Beach go to him.

Uncle Mike Jacobs' swanky suite usually is the scene of the confabs where pugilistic persuasion is used on the champ But yesterday it was as quiet as post time in a bookie joint Joe had called and every one went running

Jersey Joe Hopeful

Left waiting at the gate were sportswriters and a hopeful heavyweight named Jersey Joe Walcott. Jersey Joe, as distinguished from Joltin' Joe, is hopeful on two counts He hopes he never has to get in the ring with Louis for physical reasons and yet hopes to for financial ones

Jersey Joe has few illusions about the outcome But as one waiting sportswriter put it:

"I'd get in the ring with Louis and four tigers for $100,000"

Jersey Joe, who has a houseful of kids at Camden, N J, and doesn't get his groceries any cheaper than anybody else, smiled agreement It was the kind of a smile you see in almost any death house and he rubbed his chocolate colored hands nervously

"Louis Bit Slower"

"Yes, I think Joe is slower now than he was before the war," Walcott said in answer to a question "But that's strictly my own opinion"

He added that last bit hastily It's bad enough to possibly have to fight Louis, without having him mad at you

If Jersey Joe had his own way, it is highly probable that he would wish Joltin' Joe a long and happy reign as champion and go back to working in a brickyard, assured of his health But it is not exactly a secret that Walcott gets suggestions as to where and when to fight from a syndicate And certain friends of the syndicate are reputed to carry very large Roscoes which are known in some circles as pistols.

Jersey Joe looked very relieved when it was learned that Louis was not coming to the 20th Century Sporting club He took off like a man who just found out the dentist was on vacation

So the 20th Century club entourage moved en masse to Louis' retreat and there learned that while Joe would go for two exhibitions in the interim he would not lay his title on the line until next year.

TWO OF GREATEST OFFENSIVE FIGHTERS SQUARE OFF TONIGHT

Odds Favor Zale in Rematch with Graziano at Chicago Arena.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 16 — Tony Zale, world's middleweight champion, and challenger Rocky Graziano, two of the greatest offensive fighters in the past 10 years, battle tonight before upwards of 20,000 spectators who will contribute to a record all-time indoor gate of around $450,000

The contest in the Chicago Stadium is scheduled for 15 rounds or less — undoubtedly less, considering the punching prowess of both No one, including Zale and Graziano, believes it will go the limit The consensus of experts is that Zale will triumph within six rounds

Zale at the age of 33 defends his title for the second time against the challenge of Graziano 25 This will be an encore of the knockdown-and-count Rocky-out thriller fought in New York last September in which Zale dragged himself off the canvas to win by a knockout in six savage rounds

This rematch was scheduled for New York last spring, but the New York Athletic Commission revoked Graziano's license for failure to report an unsuccessful attempt by gamblers to bribe him with the result that the bout was switched to Chicago

Zale remained a steadfast 7 to 5 betting favorite Always in excellent condition Zale says he has trained to perfection and feels stronger now than he did before their first meeting Zale is a tireless ringman and possesses the stamina to get off the canvas as he has demonstrated in previous battles to go on to win

Graziano has trained harder and longer for tonight's battle than he ever did before He considers his condition perfect and he expresses confidence of victory.

There is little to chose physically between these rivals save that Zale may have four or five pound advantage in weight, as was the case in their first brawl He weigned 160 pounds to the challenger's 154 in their last bout.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Peggy Kirk Leads Field of Golfers At Akron Tourney

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O July 16—The state women's golf tournament was without a defending champion today, but there still was a host of top-notch shot-makers in the field chief among them being pretty Peggy Kirk, who continues to find the Portage course no puzzle

Mrs. Janet Shock Beardsley of Dayton, the defending titlist, was dropped by the wayside yesterday when she bowed to Jean Hopkins, Cleveland city champion, 3 to 2.

Miss Kirk, the Findlay golfing artist who copped medalist honors in the 18-hole qualifier with a sizzling three-under-par 69, had no trouble downing Patricia Harrington of Steubenville, 6 and 4.

Carol Dirnger of Tiffin was forced to go to the 20th hole to down Carol Sherrets of Coshocton one up, in the opening round.

Miss Hopkins, who turned the tourney into a wide-open affair by tripping defending champion Mrs Beardsley, draws Mrs. Eva Shorb Weskopf of Massillon, as her quarter-final opponent today

Ashley Pilot Returns To Old Love

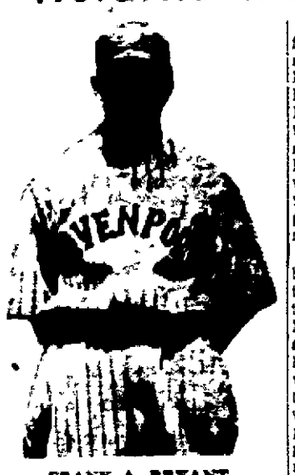
Frank A. "Jarve" Bryant, of Ashley, a postal clerk here since 1929 when he gave up professional baseball, illustrates the adage that an old love never dies by resuming contact with the game this year, managing the Ashley Independents, semi-pro ball club

Bryant, who is also secretary of the Marion civil service board of examiners, has given the Independents the benefit of his professional experience which included service with teams in the American Association, the Mississippi Valley League and the Western League.

Very enthusiastic concerning his Ashley proteges, who have won 8 games while losing four in a tri-county league, Bryant believes that some of his players may make the Marion Cubs' squad next year Two of his players, Boo Garrison and Jim Higgins, worked out with the Cubs this spring and were sent to the Cubs training school at Mansfield.

Bryant's professional career started in 1924 when a Milwaukee scout persuaded him to sign with that club Bryant was 30 at the time relatively old as baseball standards go Prior to that time, he had pitched for Spencerian college in Cleveland and for Chagrin Falls, a semi-pro team.

His start in pro ball may have been delayed by a hip injury sustained during the First World War, plus the fact that he wanted to go to college to study accounting This he did despite the protests of Hank Gowdy professional ball player and army friend, who thought Bryant should be in organized baseball.



FRANK A. BRYANT

Breathes Diamond Dust Again

After working as a relief pitcher for Milwaukee in 1924, Bryant was sent to the Mississippi Valley league the following year, in that league he played with the Rock Island, Moline, Davenport and Ottumwa teams During the 1925 season with the Rock Island club Bryant appeared in 47 games, winning 18 and losing 12 During this stint he won four games in relief roles on the mound.

Bryant, in recounting his baseball experiences, likes to tell the time he was pitching for Ottumwa against Burlington in the Mississippi Valley league He was sent in as a relief pitcher in the last of the ninth inning The bases were loaded, there were no outs, the score was tied and the count was three and nothing The former professional modestly refuses to give the details but Ottumwa won in the 11th inning

Although Bryant never went up to the majors several of his teammates at Milwaukee did among them were Lester Bell who went to the Cards, Oscar Melillo now coaching with the Cleveland Indians Lance Richbourgh who joined the Boston Braves Nemeny who was acquired by the New York Giants and Ivy Griffin who is now with Greenville S C in the Sally League.

BLACKWELL ANNEXES NO. 16 BUT RUMOR SAYS HE TIPS HAND

Ace Knocked for 10 Hits as Sluggers Seem To Get Signal.

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, July 16—There may be something to the rumor that Ewell Blackwell the major leagues' most effective pitcher this season, "tips his mitt" when he cuts loose with his fast ball

The tipoff may be in his wind-up, perhaps in the position of his glove as he covers his grip on the ball There are several other clues but the smart hitters reportedly "wised up" to tricks of the Cincinnati fireballer are keeping smug silence

Blackwell was credited with his fourteenth straight victory and sixteenth of the season here last night as the Reds edged the Philadelphia Phils, 5-3 but the big pitcher was pounded for 10 hits as timely stickwork and circus fielding by catcher Ray Lamanno and shortstop Eddie Miller saved the game for him

Lamanno accounted for the first Cincinnati run in the third inning when he drove his fourth home run of the season into the leftfield pavilion and Miller's sharp single to left, his only hit of the game, scored Babe Young with the winning run in the eighth

The fielding gems came in the bottom of the eighth Miller pulled down Jim Tabor's line drive bid for extra bases with a leaping one-handed catch and, after Den Ennis had doubled and went to third on Don Padgett's infield single. Lamanno crashed into the wall but hung onto Andy Semnick's foul Emil Verban then flied out to end the inning

Girl Wrestlers Return To Armory Thursday

Two of the best known girl wrestlers, Miss Ivory Snodgrass and Miss Mae Weston are one of the main events at the Marion Armory Thursday night. Two better Gal Rassers would be hard to find for each has over eight years of pro wrestling experience and both are not tempered especially the Hill-Billy Miss Snodgrass—so the fans are sure of seeing a top girl match.

The other ninety minute match should give plenty of action for it pits Rufus Jones who was quite a big hero in his match with Dutch Schultz and Billy Fox, who turned in a big surprise to win his match over Gordon Hassell, last Thursday.

Both matches are for the best two out of three falls

Shrine Benefit Funds Used To Battle Disease

Disease plays no favorites

Many children who become crippled are from families not able to finance necessary treatment of their affliction.

The people of Marion are being asked, by the Marion Shrine club, to share in the support of the Crippled Children movement by attending the benefit game at Lincoln park Saturday night. Marion will play Springfield.

Last year more than 4,000 persons donated to the movement.

Hope for Record

This year officials in charge of the game believe this figure can be surpassed.

Every cent received from the gate receipts of the game will be for the benefit of crippled children, regardless of race, creed, or color, according to Earl J. Andrews, chairman of the local Shrine baseball committee.

The money will go to the Aladdin Crippled Children's Hospital association in Columbus The funds are used for the treatment of crippled children in Columbus, and is in addition to the crippled children's movement conducted by the Imperial Council and its 15 hospitals scattered throughout the United States and supported by Aladdin Temple.

The best medical minds and surgeons in the country are made available for treatment of young unfortunates, Mr. Andrews said.

Have Cared for Own

Although eligible to send children to the National hospital in St. Louis, Aladdin has yet to send its first patient. Hundreds in the Aladdin district have been taken care of through local operation.

In 1925 the Aladdin movement was started Dr William D Murphy was director of medical treatment

Following his death last year Dr Judson D Wilson, orthopedic physician, was elected to replace him.

Dr Wilson has been interested in crippled children for many years and often assisted Dr Murphy in his work He is a graduate of the medical college at Indiana university and did graduate work at Ohio State.

He is a member of the staff at Mt. Carmel hospital, in charge of orthopedic surgery at White Cross hospital, and assistant professor of orthopedic surgery at Ohio State university. He is also a diplomat on the American Board of Orthopedic Surgery.

There are 30 Shrine clubs in central, southern, and eastern Ohio In each a prominent physician has been named to pass on applications for treatment.

Under his plans Dr. Wilson hopes to find every crippled child in need of attention and eligible for treatment in this area

O.N.U. Looks For Enrollment of 1,200

Special to The Star

KENTON, July 16—Ohio Northern university at Ada is making arrangements to accommodate 1,200 students this fall, according to President Robert O. McClure. A total of 1,166 applications have already been received and others are coming in daily. "We shall be much better prepared to care for a larger enrollment," the president stated, "since the completion of five dormitories for men on the university athletic field."

Lack of facilities for girls is Dr. McClure's greatest concern. He feels that a new dormitory for the co-eds is more urgently needed than ever before. More than 300 young women who have made applications cannot be accepted because of the lack of housing.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

I KNEW what Katharine was going to do at my answer to her question before she did it, for it was a gesture familiar to me, one she employs when she highly approves any suggestion.

Springing to her feet, she bent low before me in the obeisance rendered to a queen, then, bringing her slender figure erect again, she spread her arms wide.

"Loidy," she declaimed, "I think you've hit the jackpot again. But you've got to be foxy about the whodunit. The thing must be brandnew, for I understand that, while Mary wasn't allowed to read plays at the sanitarium because they excited her—I suppose she tried to study the lines—she had a daily diet of whodunit and other light literature."

"I'll get hold of Olina at once," I said, "and she'll go over to the nearest bookstore and get one. There were some attractive recommendations in last Sunday's newspaper book sections."

"Please let me amend that most excellent suggestion," Katharine said. "Have her purchase three or four—she can return the others later—the reason being that you'll have to read the book you're going to read to Mary before you begin rolling out your sonorous periods."

Can Skim Through

"Don't look so awe-stricken!" she went on. "You know as well as I do that you can skim through one of those things in almost nothing flat. You only need to lamp a few words on each page. You don't have to exercise your little brain cells at all. You just want to make sure there's nothing in it to jar Mary, or, if there is, if you can manager to skip it. But you'd better get Olina going. I'll go back to Mary, hoping her nap will extend itself, but prepared to cope with her if she does waken until you can take over. How long before you'll be ready to see me?"

"If Olina can go now," I said, "she should be back in half an hour. Come in two hours from now. Will that do?"

"Perfect!" she said, and departed on the word, while I telephoned Olina and found that she would be delighted to do my errand at once.

When she came back, I took a hasty look at the beginnings and endings of the four books she had brought, discarded two because I did not like the beginning, the ending, nor yet the author's style; in either of them. Then I spent a hectic hour skimming the contents of the two others, and closed the last page of the second one just as Katharine came through the door.

Under the Wire

"I just got under the wire," I told her, and she sent an interested look at the pile of books on the table beside me.

"Find anything possible?" she asked.

"Yes. Two of these are very good, but one has more humor in it than the other."

"That's the one to choose, then," she said. "Can you come in now?"

"All ready," I told her, picking up the book I had chosen. "Does Mary know what is in store for her?"

"Indeed she doesn't," Katharine said. "This is going to be a surprise. It's all in your hands. Make your own approach. But I warn you, she's pretty jittery and I've exhausted all my parlor tricks."

I found Mary sitting on the edge of her chair again, her eyes too bright, her face too flushed, and her fingers clenched against her palms. But I ignored all the signs of her inward turmoil and gave her a cheery smile, as I held up in the air the book which I had brought into the room.

Whodunit With Humor

"I'm Christopher Columbus!" I declaimed. "Look at what I just discovered! A whodunit that really has humor."

But Mary wasn't even faintly interested.

"I'll bet I've read it," she said indifferently. "They used to be my daily diet at the sanitarium."

"You haven't read this one," I said. "It's been out only a few days. And I'm not proposing that you read it. I just thought it might pass the time if I read it aloud to you. I'll try to read the dialogue as dramatically as possible, and we might amuse ourselves by figuring how it could be made into a play."

I was heartened when I saw the tenseness of her figure relax, noticed her hands drop into her lap, and looked into eyes which had changed from feverish unrest to interest.

"Oh Auntie Madge, you darling!" she cried. "You've got something there! When can be begin?"

QUEEN HAS EYE FULL
